

President Ford has been subjected to a major press psywar job, praising him as a "noble loser" for not challenging the admittedly questionable election results. The Washington Post, New York Times and others have echoed the words of New York Post columnist Harriet Van Horne, "Given the inner torment, it is noble of Ford to discourage recounts in such tight states as Ohio and New York." At today's Plains, Ga. press conference announcing Vance's appointment, Carter himself eulogized the Ford presidency with nearly two minutes of saccharine praise for Ford's gracious behavior during the "transition period."

Ford is now being told by top Rockefeller insiders not to challenge the election because the Democrats could challenge the Republicans in eight close state races, knowledgeable sources report. Ford has also been warned that he would threaten national security by doing so. Ford was reminded this week when a man crashed his truck through the White House gates to "wake Ford up" that Rockefeller is prepared to go as far as assassination to put Carter in the White House.

In addition to Ford, key Administration elements, especially the Defense Department, Treasury and Internal Revenue Service, have come under increased scrutiny and criticism. Conservative and Republican congressmen are being held in check with threats of scandals around South Korean bribery of congressmen, threats which escalated this week with the defection to the U.S. of the Korean intelligence agent who has been in charge of Capitol Hill operations.

Rockefeller faces an even more difficult problem with conservative rank-and-filers, and has surfaced every available "right cover" agent in unabashed defense of Jimmy Carter's victory. Under the direction of Council on Foreign Relations member William Buckley, Frank Donatelli, executive director of the Young Americans for Freedom (YAF), has threatened YAF members in Ohio and other states against working with the USLP on the vote fraud suits. Buckley's mouthpiece National Review is backing up his campaign with slander articles against the USLP.

In an attempt to round up these constitutionalist conservatives and herd them into a canyon, Buckley this week met with Ronald Reagan. Following the meeting Reagan announced a nationwide tour to "reorganize the GOP." Reagan's tour — bankrolled by a $1 million war chest — is Rockefeller's second try at his Operation Sidetrack plan to divert Republican funds from USLP-GOP anti-fraud court cases. Reagan has made it clear that he is going for a complete destruction of the Republican Party — even including its name.

Who Is Cyrus Vance?

Dec. 3 (NSIPS) — It has been widely reported in the national press today that Cyrus Vance is the chosen successor to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger if James Earl Carter enters the White House on Jan. 20. The only change Wall Street attorney Vance is guaranteed to effect is the placing of the United States on its collision course toward thermonuclear war with the Soviet Union.

Vance is a ranking member of the UN Association Committee, the Rockefeller Foundation-funded counter organization to the Committee on the Present Danger. As retired General Ridgeway, a member of both groups, has said, "There is fundamentally no difference between the two organizations."

While the CPD and its members, like Eugene Rostow and Carter advisor James Rodney Schlesinger, vocally advocate a policy of massive arms buildup in preparation for military conflict, the UN Association Committee advocates a sounding out of the Soviets' position with a "Let's negotiate" line on the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks and the Mutual Balanced Force Reduction Talks — within the context of a massive arms buildup in preparation for a military confrontation. Vance's only role in foreign policy will be to wave the carrot of peaceful negotiation in front of the Soviets' nose, while "Utopian" war-monger Schlesinger, rumored as the next Defense Secretary, prepares to press the thermonuclear button.

Vance is nevertheless well-practiced in the art of "Utopian" war-making and diplomacy, having served as President John F. Kennedy's Secretary of the Army and later, under President Johnson, as the traveling troubleshooter assigned to such international hotspots as Greece during the 1967 NATO coup d'état, Cyprus, South Vietnam, the Dominican Republic, Panama, and South Korea. In fact, Vance was Wall Street's commanding officer in charge of the 1967 coup in Greece, which was code-named Operation Prometheus. With fellow Democrat Averell Harriman, Vance was the chief U.S. negotiator during the 1968-69 Paris Peace Conference on Vietnam, which he sabotaged with inflexible demands.

As the special advisor to the Carter campaign staff and member of the Democratic Party National Committee's Foreign Policy Task Force; Vance served as the primary conduit for the policies worked out at planning sessions of the Trilateral Commission and the Council on Foreign Relations, of which he is a member. Vance is counted among Rockefeller's top international policy formulators. As a member of the Board of Directors of the New York Times, Vance sees to it that these policy formulations are transformed into Rockefeller's version of the news and the appropriate psychological warfare campaigns against the U.S. population.

His international activities interface closely with his positions as a member of the Board of Directors of the Rockefeller Foundation and as a partner in the Wall Street law firm of Simpson, Thatcher and Bartlett. The firm represents the Wall Street investment concern of Goldman Sachs which houses such criminals as Henry Fowler, a founding member of the Committee on the Present Danger, and Ray Cline of the Center for Strategic and International Studies. Representing the genocide side of Carter's policy of war and fascism, the firm's other major client is the Lehman Brothers investment house. Lehman partner George Ball is a public advocate of Third World triage policies, endorsing William Paddock's program for the elimination of 30 million Mexican citizens.
