

The truth about the Moro murder breaks into Italy's press

European Labor Party book is also scrutinized by Italian government

"The Queen is responsible," headlined last weekend's Panorama, considered to be Italy's equivalent of Time magazine. "The Queen didn't work all alone: helping her were the English Secret Services, the Israeli Shin Beth, the Sovereign (Military) Order of Malta, the Socialist International, the aristocracy in general," Panorama flatly announced in a review of "Who Killed Aldo Moro," the drug-terrorism exposé produced by the European Labor Party (ELP).

The Panorama coverage coincides with both a Milan European Labor Party round table discussion held to pass on further intelligence of the drug-terrorism network in Italy, and the worst wave of terror since the events leading up to the January collapse of the former Andreotti government and the subsequent kidnapping of Moro three months later.

Those knowledgeable of the Panorama editorial policy, as well as its financial backing in the circles of FIAT magnate Gianni Agnelli, were no doubt shocked to see the magazine detail the documentation by the ELP of the British-Zionist dope-peddling circles which carried out the attack on Moro. However, Panorama's worry that the Italian authorities are actually acting on the ELP evidence was expressed in their version of the exposé, edited to read as assertions with no proof.

Nevertheless, it is well known among relevant circles that the ELP's Moro brief is under close scrutiny inside the Interior and Justice Ministries and the security services, who snatched up all available copies at the nationally attended press conference where the brief was first presented to the public earlier this year.

Drugs and murder

The European Labor Party recently sponsored a highly successful round table discussion on the drug problem in Milan, Italy with the participation of Italian Communist Party members, the Milan and Veneto antidrug centers, a magistrate, various newspapers including the Catholic Studi Cattolici, and others.

Speakers at the discussion laid out in detail the British-controlled international drug network and its interface with international — including Italian — terrorism, targeting those institutions and individuals who must be exposed if the nation is to rid itself of the source of funding for the gigantic terror wave and accompanying destabilizations which now threaten the stability of the government. As leading individuals investigating Italian terrorism corroborated to the ELP just prior to the Milan round table discussion, drugs lie at the heart of the terrorist problems: it is the dope-peddling networks which fund terrorism, and drugs are the basis for recruitment into terrorist gangs.

Not surprisingly, therefore, the noted Italian Communist Party (PCI) judicial expert and journalist Mauro Brutto was murdered in the classical Italian-staged car accident the day before the ELP's round table discussion, after he had phoned the ELP to report that he was following terrorist leads into the Italian Mafia. Brutto's death was only the latest in a series of well-targeted murders of Italian investigators, including judges, responsible for unraveling the source of current, absolutely massive, destabilization operations including terrorism.

At press time the situation shapes up as follows: the "right-wing" side of the destabilization is being coordinated by Christian Democratic Senator Massimo De Carolis, noted subaltern of the Council on Foreign Relations, who earlier this month predicted an "Iran-style" wave of chaos to occur in Italy. De Carolis is currently touring Italy in the company of Enrico Pruner, secretary of the South Tyrol (Alpian) party who emerged victorious in last week's regional elections on a platform of creating a central "Europe of the regions" through the cooperation of the Alpian states under the leadership of the noted Bavarian neo-fascist, Franz-Josef Strauss.

De Carolis, in an interview Nov. 26 with La Repubblica, offered Strauss as his model, while announcing his Italian tour to organize the "mass of discontented supporters" of the Christian Democracy (DC). In fact, De Carolis will be activating throughout the peninsula the avowedly fascist networks of the convicted former head of Italian military intelligence, Miceli, who was responsible for orchestrating the attempted coup d'état of 1974. Miceli's fascist intelligence-terrorist networks are run by the noted Luzzatto family of Venice, according to highly placed terrorist sources who should know: this is the same Strauss-allied Luzzatto family which helped finance the victory of the fascist parties in Italy's northern Alpi regions earlier this month and whose representative will be traveling with De Carolis.

That the wife of current U.S. Ambassador to Italy Gardner is a Luzzatto should be no surprise, given the often-documented role which the Italian ambassador has played in current and earlier destabilizations against the government of Premier Andreotti.

On the "left-wing" side of this terrorist scenario stands the Italian Socialist Party (PSI), and the PSI-controlled Italian Social Democratic Party (PSDI), and the Radical Party of gay rights activist Pannella. All three are now openly calling for a government collapse before Dec. 4, the date on which the European heads of state will meet to finalize arrangements for the Jan. 1 creation of the European Monetary System (EMS). PSDI Secretary General Pietro Longo is demanding a meeting of party chiefs with the Prime Minister to discuss the issue of Italian entry into the new monetary system, while PSI Secretary Craxi is openly calling for a new government which would abolish the current cooperation between the Christian Democrats and the Italian Communist Party.

Meanwhile "left-wing" terrorism operating out of the PSI, Pannella's radicals, and the interfaced Red Brigades gang continues unabated, escalating daily under the direction of the noble Pallavicini family, one of whose members is charged with the kidnapping of Aldo Moro.

Thus far the government has, however, managed to remain firm against this onslaught. As happened during the Moro affair, significant credit must be given to the government's decisive supporter, the PCI. Communist General Secretary Berlinguer has responded to targeted attacks on the cabinet's support for the European Monetary System by releasing an interview on Nov. 25 which for the first time grants the EMS unconditional support. The interview connects the need for the creation of a new world monetary system to the need for securing world peace and disarmament.

Berlinguer denounces the current international monetary system for preventing development and threatening peace, at the same time extolling the "intensive" role which Italy and the rest of Europe must play "to favor development of collaboration with the Third World, disarmament, the safeguarding of peace, (and) the transformation of the present international economic order which condemns more than one-third of humanity to hunger, underdevelopment, endemic diseases, and illiteracy."

'The Queen is responsible'

Reflecting the enormous impact of the European Labor Party's book, "Chi ha ucciso Aldo Moro," Panorama of Nov. 28 ran the following coverage:

Heading the plot was Elizabeth II of England. The British Crown, together with all of the world's monarchies (including the House of Savoy), have been attempting to destabilize the Italian situation for a long time. The ELP (European Labor Party), (a strange group, well-funded, self-defined as leftist, but suspected of being linked in reality to American conservative circles) is sure of it. In a book tantalizingly entitled "Who Killed Aldo Moro?", the ELP runs a 110-page story of the conspiracy. First of all the general organization and its commanders. The Queen didn't work all alone: helping her were the English Secret

In addition to identifying many personalities named here, the Nov. 28 Panorama coverage of the ELP book also identifies Indro Montanelli, editor of Il Giornale, Stefano Rodata, and Red Brigades "expert" for L'Espresso, Mario Scialoja as prominent press supporters for this the British "empire" in Italy.

Others highlighted here and mentioned in Panorama are Amintore Fanfani, right-wing Christian Democrat Senator, former fascist, and a member of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM); Giorgio Amendola, member of the Directorate of the Italian Communist Party (PCI); Ugo La Malfa, President of the Italian Republican Party (PRI); and Bettino Craxi, present Secretary General of the Italian Socialist Party.

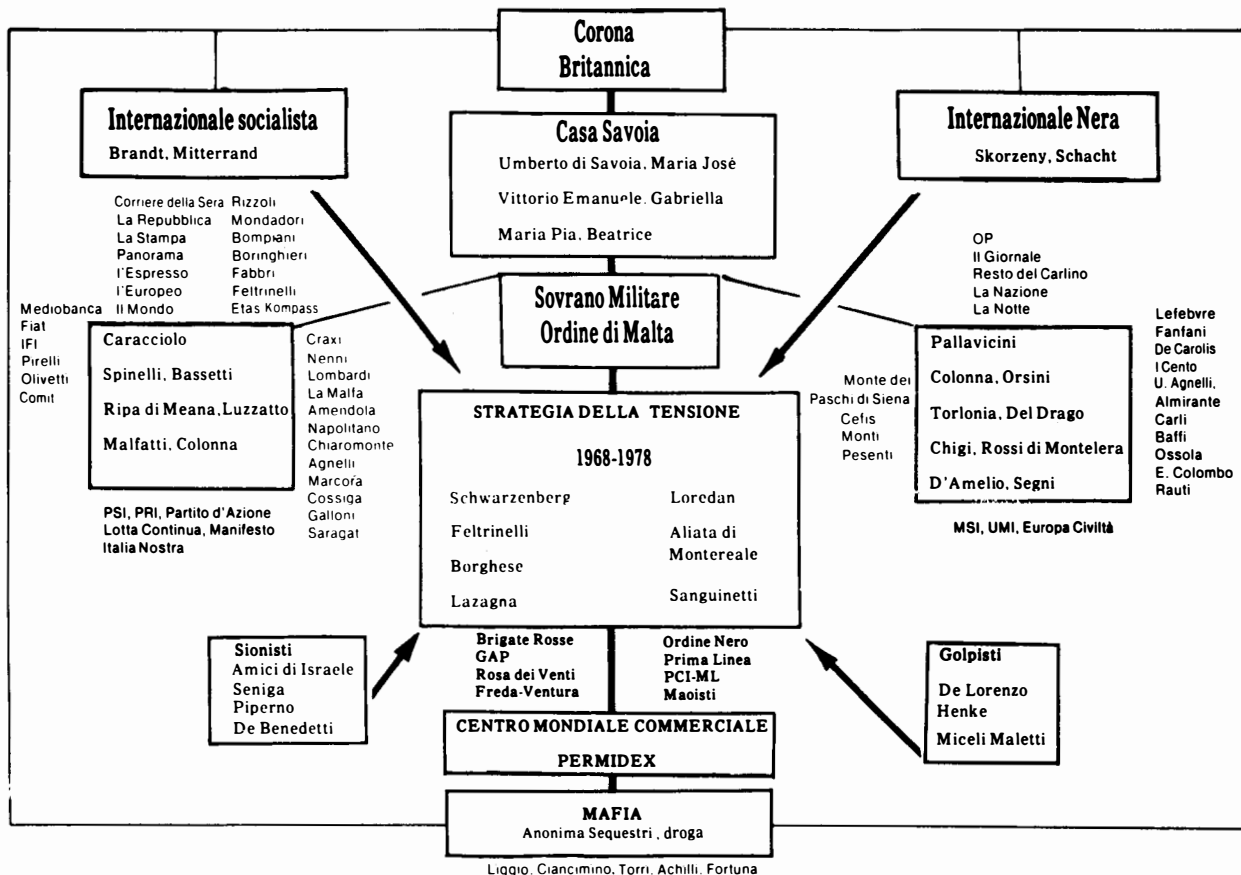

Services, the Israeli Shin Beth, the Sovereign (Military) Order of Malta, the Socialist International, the aristocracy in general.

Then come the supporters: the Nazi-British Mitterrand, the head of the Marseilles clan, the Socialist Michele Achilli, the organizer of the Mazzotti kidnapping, monarchist Indro Montanelli, all the members of the Caracciolo, Pallavicini, and Colonna families, Ripa di Meana, N. Bassetti, then Amintore Fanfani, Umberto Agnelli, Massimo De Carolis, Giorgio Amendola, Giorgio Napolitano, Ugo La Malfa, the inciter of prison upsurges Stefano Rodota, ENI's Mafioso Francesco Forte, the creator of the Red Brigades Francesco Alberoni, the Brigades' head Mario Scialoja, the terrorist-supporter and environmentalist Pannella, hoodlum and heir to the throne Charles of England, the Israeli agent Francesco Cossiga, the originator of red and black terrorism Giacomo Mancini, the notorious arms smuggler Victor Emmanuel, and finally the man who left his own calling cards in the Via Gradoli office, Bettino Craxi.

All these people, according to the ELP, form a perfectly meshed, trained organization. They have already killed Martin Luther King, John and Robert Kennedy, and Enrico Mattei. On their hit-list are three other important entries: assassinate Helmut Schmidt, Giulio Andreotti and especially the half-known President of the U.S. Labor Party Lyndon LaRouche, the ideologue of the ELP and discoverer of the plot. But why did they kidnap and kill Aldo Moro? The ELP reveals the answer to this as well. Because Moro, along with the sane forces of Italy (Michele Sindona, Giulio Andreotti, Enrico Berlinguer, Luigi Granelli, Flaminio Piccoli, Giovanni Leone) and of the world (Pope Paul VI, Brezhnev, the Shah of Persia, Giscard D'Estaing, Helmut Schmidt, Takeo Fukuda), was attempting to realize the grand design for economic and cultural development, which he knew to be the only solution for Italy.

The order to kidnap Aldo Moro, according to the ELP, was given by British agent Piazzesi, the political editor of Il Corriere della Sera. On March 12, Piazzesi wrote a long article concluding with the following phrase: "Moro is one of those fatalists who accept death stoically — but only on one condition: that it come as late as possible." The ELP comments that this article was more than a death-knell, this was the marching-order. In any case Piazzesi, according to the ELP, is one of those British agents who require major attention. Thus when he wrote on August 1 that Andreotti is "a man devoted to sacrifice, who demonstrates a reassuring vitality and energy despite the fact that he is sometimes pictured as almost dead or about to die," for the ELP this means that Piazzesi has fingered the next victim.

But why is it that the destabilization plot, the attempted coup d'etat of April to bring Fanfani (the representative of the Savoy wing within the D.C.) into power didn't succeed? In sum, the ELP says it was the firm position taken by the Vatican, the government and the PCI to outflank and foil the plot, despite the Anglophile press (Panorama, L'Espresso, La Repubblica, La Stampa, Il Messaggero), which did everything to create a favorable environment.

The ELP editors precisely point out the place where Moro was kept prisoner. It is probable that the apartment in question is the one owned by Prince Johannes Schwartzberg, Ambassador of the Knights of Malta. The Palazzo Schwartzberg, which has territorial immunity, stands at the corner between the Via delle Botteghe Oscure and Via Caetani. And why wasn't the Prince questioned about it? The plot thickens. The Prince himself, says the ELP, was surprised by the fact that nobody asked him about it. Why not ask him now? Too late: the conclusion by the ELP is typical of the classic mystery thriller. Prince Schwartzberg died, in a car accident, a few days after Moro's body was found.

Berlinguer on Italy's world development role

Enrico Berlinguer, Secretary General of the Italian Communist Party, recently provided his endorsement for the new European Monetary Fund. Here, we present his views on a particular problem which faces the new EMF as it begins operation Jan. 1, from an interview published in the Italian Communist Party's daily Unità on Nov. 24.

Q: Do you think that the support by the European workers' movement and democratic forces for the people of southern Africa has been or is sufficient?

A: No, it's still not enough. International solidarity cannot live only by indignant demonstrations and protests against the horrors of racism and apartheid. . . . There is a role that we think Italy could play in Europe to initiate a policy of cooperation with the countries of Africa: and there is an irreplaceable role that Europe should play in favor of developing world collaboration for disarmament, safeguarding of the peace, the transformation of the present unjust international economic order, which condemns more than one third of humanity to underdevelopment, hunger, endemic diseases, and illiteracy.

. . . The same reasons for the civil and economic growth of the "metropolitan" countries (including Italy) — a growth that however must realize itself in different ways than currently — require a serious acceptance of the reasons for development and justice of the "Third World" countries, and the initiation with them of a policy of cooperation on the basis of equality. But that means, in Western Europe, a profound transformation of the economic structure and the social order, a change of the ruling class and the affirmation of a new system of values. It is only in these terms that it is no longer rhetorical to speak, as we do, of a more articulated conception of international solidarity, of common action for the overcoming of counterposed military blocs, and to prevent their logic from extending itself to other continents.

. . . The fundamental question that we have to face is how to increase employment, and expand socially useful production and economic development balanced on a global scale. In a few words, how to promote a concerted international division of labor which would give rise to a single world market. . . .
