

but out of the Presidency. And remove this factor from the Presidency, and don't put some other failed personality in to replace him. And then we can make it.

The Congress Is Hypnotized

The problem is: You look at the Congress. The members of the U.S. Congress are hypnotized by this failed personality. In the same way—they have not got up with a Roman salute, and shouting “Heil Hitler!” in a meeting of the Senate or the House of Representatives—but they have done practically the same thing. They are hypnotized by this Hitler. This Hitler-like phenomenon. And you don't need to do anything, except consider, this is what this man's nature is.

They looked at the failed personality type. They did an analysis of the failed personality type, which is relevant. But then they came to the question of, “What do these clinical conclusions indicate, from a psychiatry standpoint?” “There's nothing we can do about it.”

I say, they were wrong! You don't limit yourself to proof, that he committed this offense. You are trying to prevent, what he's about to do! You say, “We can't convict him, till he commits the crime,” and this is a crime against all humanity. You mean, that we are impotent, to act morally, under law, under these conditions? That's what our folly is! This man should be eliminated from the Presidency! And he must be kept safe, and alive.

Eliminate him as a factor. You kill him? You let him be killed? And he becomes now—a new factor—he becomes a martyr. We must not have that. Keep him safe, keep him alive. That way he's not a martyr, and in somebody's way. But get him out, now! Get him out this month! It's your last chance. You want to save the nation? You want to solve a problem? Drop all other issues. This is the issue: The existence of the United States depends upon our acting upon this issue. All other issues are relatively irrelevant, until this one is settled.

That's why I complain about the gutlessness of our leaders. I see something clearly, that has to be done, I know how to do it. I know what has to be done. And people are reluctant to do it! And their cowardice, their failure to face these facts and the action demanded of them, is the greatest threat to civilization as a whole, now. The greatest threat to the human race, existing now, is people who condone this process, who say, “Well, there's nothing we can do about it.” Like someone who retreats before a deadly disease that's about to wipe out humanity—“well, there's nothing we can do about it. It's a disease, diseases have their rights.”

---

Racist Charges Challenged

---

Rangel, Waters Stun Their Accusers

by Nancy Spannaus

Aug. 16—“I've been to a lot of funerals, and this damn sure isn't a funeral,” commented senior Democratic Congressman Charles Rangel at his well-attended 80th birthday party/fundraiser Aug. 11 in New York City. The rallying behind Rangel evident at that event, which was hosted by New York Gov. David Paterson, and attended by many leading Democratic personalities, was a fitting follow-up to the Congressman's historic, Shakespearean address to the House of Representatives the day before. There, Rangel stunned his accusers by challenging the specious charges by the House Ethics Committee against him, and saying that he is “not going anywhere.” He is going to stand and fight.

Congresswoman Maxine Waters (D-Calif.) expressed the same combativeness two days later, when she called a press briefing in Washington, where she ripped to shreds the charges brought against her by the Ethics Committee. Not only did Waters and her chief of staff document that they did nothing wrong, but she implicitly highlighted the racial targeting involved, by contrasting the ability of the big Wall Street, bankers to get right on the phone with the Treasury Secretary's office, with the lack of access for minority and community banks.

The Obama Administration's Ethics Gestapo—which is suspected of having an Enemies List à la Richard Nixon—had expected both senior African-American lawmakers to shun combat, and make a deal. But instead, both Rangel and Waters have gone on the offensive, demanding their Constitutional rights to due process, and to face their accusers in a trial. “I think it's kind of important for due process to take place,” Waters said wryly at her Aug. 13 press conference. “It's kind of guaranteed by something called the Constitution.”

A Constitutional Issue

In fact, the prosecution against Rangel and Waters does violate the Constitution, as this magazine elabo-creative commons/Tracy Russo

rangel.house.gov/Elbert Garcia

Representatives Maxine Waters and Charlie Rangel have refused to roll over and play dead for Obama's Ethics Gestapo. The two lawmakers are the latest targets on the FBI's "Operation Frühmenschen" hit-list against those who have committed the crime of "legislating while black."

rated in our last two issues. In both cases, but especially that of Waters, the formal, initiating role was played by an institution created by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.)—the Office of Congressional Ethics (OCE). The OCE itself, an "independent" panel appointed by House leaders without any Members of Congress on it, violates the Constitution by setting up an agency outside Congress to judge its members, and to act, as critic Rep. Marcy Fudge (D-Ohio) has argued, as prosecutor, judge, and jury, on the basis of complaints that can be submitted by anyone, even anonymously.

The second un-Constitutional aspect comes from the role being played by the FBI, which, according to EIR's sources and evidence publicly available, is pursuing its Operation Frühmenschen program of targeting African-American lawmakers. Operation Frühmenschen (German for primitive man) was first exposed by former Congressional Black Caucus leader Mervyn Dymally in 1988, who presented Congress with sworn testimony from an FBI agent in the program. Yet, the overwhelming majority of the targets of today's "ethics" investigations continue to be African-Americans, specifically, those who oppose crucial aspects of Obama's British-Wall Street program.

Dymally has recently spoken out in strong support of Waters, in interviews with the Los Angeles Sentinel and LPAC-TV (<http://www.larouchepac.com/node/15508>).

The outrageousness of the charges against Rangel and Waters has even been reflected on cable TV. Jon

Stewart's "Daily Show" satirical news program Aug. 9, identified the targeting of the two Congressional Black Caucus members, as the crime of "LWB," or, "Legislating While Black."

In the documentation section below, you will find further evidence of the slimy frameups being crafted by the Obama Administration, the Pelosi crowd, and their cohorts—most especially, the role of OCE co-chair Porter Goss, and of Obama's outgoing "Ethics Czar," Norman Eisen.

But, there is no substitute for the eloquent arguments on this question from Reps. Rangel and Waters themselves. While we urge you to listen to the presentations, to get their full import, we present EIR's transcripts of their own statements below.

---

Porter Goss's Cover-Up

---

Waters Exposed Contra Drug Trafficking

by Michele Steinberg

Aug. 16 (EIRNS)—On Aug. 6, LaRouche PAC posed the question, "Who is Porter Goss to sit in judgement against members of Congress for the racist Barack Obama?"

Well-placed intelligence sources in Washington had pointed to a bitter conflict between Rep. Maxine Waters and Goss, now co-chairman of the unconstitutional Office of Congressional Ethics that initiated the phony ethics charges against Waters. That conflict goes back to 1997-99, when Goss blocked the efforts of Waters to expose the Bush family/Iran-Contra cocaine trafficking which had created a hellish epidemic of crack cocaine use in South Central Los Angeles—Waters' Congressional District—as well as in other parts of the country.

As EIR has reported, Goss became head of the